No college credit at the University of Buffalo will be granted to students taking college credit courses at the summer session of the Buffalo State Normal School unless such students have completed the two years of work in the Buffalo State Normal School required for the Normal School certificate.

Candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Science in Education at the University of Buffalo must take at least thirty-two hours in residence at the University of Buffalo and may present ninety-six hours for credit from the Buffalo State Normal School. Of these ninety-six hours of credit, two years of work at the Buffalo State Normal School will insure sixty-four hours of credit and the remaining thirty-two must be equally divided between professional and liberal courses taken in the extension or summer session series. In case twelve teaching credits are presented, the remaining twenty hours of credit must consist of not more than four hours of professional courses and at least sixteen hours of liberal courses.

BUFFALO STATE NORMAL SCHOOL

Extension Courses, 1926-27

NORMAL SCHOOL graduates are invited to consider the opportunity now offered by the Buffalo State Normal School to earn a college degree. On June 24, 1926, the Regents of the State of New York approved the course of study for a fourth year and authorized the school to grant the degree of Bachelor of Science (in Education). The last legislature made an appropriation for eight new positions, six of which are of professorial rank. The Buffalo State Normal School is now enabled to offer four years of teacher training for elementary teachers of marked professional ambition who desire extended training for increased efficiency, for personal satisfaction or for promotion to supervisory, administrative or critic positions in elementary and junior high school fields. In the near future application will be made for a change in the name of the institution to the "Buffalo State Teachers' College."

Normal school graduates who have completed the former two year course or the present three year course may meet the additional requirement by pursuing summer session and extension courses.

Extension courses will now be given at the State Normal School on Saturdays from 9:00 a. m. to 12:20 p. m. so that teachers residing in Buffalo or adjoining cities and villages located within a commuting radius may avail themselves of this opportunity.

Tuition will be free to all former graduates of any Normal School or of a two year course in a city training school.

Prospective students who wish information regarding the evaluation of their credits may address the Principal or Registrar of the school or telephone Tupper 0707. Reasonable credit will be granted for successful teaching experience which is certified by competent supervising officials. The right is reserved to limit registration in courses to thirty in number. The school library and the cafeteria will be open on Saturdays for the convenience of students.

Saturday periods are from 9:00 to 10:40 a. m. and 10:40 a. m. to 12:20 p. m.

First semester begins October 9, 1926, and closes February 5, 1927.

Second semester begins February 5, 1927, and closes June 4, 1927.
